WE BELIEVE IN COMEBACKS.
GUTSY. DRAMATIC. INSPIRING. THESE ARE WHAT COMEBACKS ARE. THIS IS WHERE THEY HAPPEN.

Life can change in an instant. A brain injury, spinal cord injury, or other diagnosis can make the simple things in life seem far away. That’s why, at Hope Network Neuro Rehabilitation, we’re firmly dedicated to you or your loved one’s comeback.

We’ve seen people do some pretty amazing things when facing a world of doubt—when taking a single step forward seems impossible. We believe in comebacks—because we’ve seen them happen for over 30 years.
ANY GOOD COMEBACK NEEDS SOME TRUE BELIEVERS.

We help people overcome. No matter the individual, no matter the problem, no matter the odds, we know that surrounded by the right team anything is possible.

At Hope Network Neuro Rehabilitation, we pursue and employ the right people for the job. We take a person-centered approach. And we believe that collaboration makes great things possible.

Our rehab team does whatever it takes for your comeback, and so does our admissions team.

Whether you have funding questions, want to set up a tour, or need any other information, contact the team by calling 855.407.7575 or emailing comebacks@hopenetwork.org.
WHY CHOOSE HOPE NETWORK NEURO REHABILITATION?

Simply put, our team focuses on rehabilitation that doesn’t just get you back to your life, but back to what’s good in life.

We don’t only address medical aspects of rehabilitation, but address real-world activities and individualized interests. For some, that means goals as routine as driving or getting back to work. For others, it means getting back to the gym or on a bicycle. And for everyone, it means achieving the most independent lifestyle possible.

With the right team by your side, the odds are in your favor.

With input from you, your family, and the referring physician, our treatment team designs a personal therapy plan unique to your abilities and goals. Our team is one of the best in the region, consisting of:

Physical and Occupational Therapists
Speech and Language Pathologists
Psychologists
Psychiatrists
Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Physicians
Nurses
Social Workers
Vocational and Return-to-Work Specialists
Therapeutic Recreation Therapists
And More
Post-Acute Transitional Neuro Rehabilitation is a community-based residential and clinical program that assists patients in reaching their highest level of independence post injury. Through an individualized program, intensive therapy, and an outcomes-driven approach, patients are able to maximize their functional abilities and take steps toward developing a meaningful lifestyle.

Neurobehavioral Rehabilitation is a community-based residential and clinical program for those who experience uncharacteristic aggression, prolonged confusion, or an escalation of behavioral health issues following a brain injury. A team of experts, combined with a calming therapeutic environment, provide an opportunity for optimal recovery. The team implements and teaches behavioral management strategies that allow the patient to transition to an active clinical rehabilitation program or living environment that meets their individual needs.

Day Rehab includes a variety of services to serve patients more comprehensively and more conveniently on an outpatient basis. This coordinated, interdisciplinary therapy program allows participants to receive the services they need by day before returning home to what’s most meaningful in their lives.

Other Services we offer include return-to-work and vocational rehabilitation, therapeutic recreation, residential and community support programs, and more.

EMILY’S STORY
It was an ordinary winter day when the unexpected happened. It could have happened to anybody, but it happened to Emily. She was driving to work when her car got caught on a sheet of black ice. Losing control, Emily crashed into a tree, the impact of which caused instant and significant injuries.

Before long came the questions. “Will my life ever be the same?” “Will I ever walk again?” “What happens now?” It would be a journey, but Emily would eventually learn the answers.

After leaving the hospital, Emily came to Hope Network Neuro Rehabilitation. From day one, she faced some daunting obstacles. But slowly, surely, she started making progress. “Emily is a fighter and knew that she was going to get her old life back,” said Amber Lowery, a member of Emily’s rehabilitation team.

Emily persevered, even when it seemed impossible. At times, there was doubt, but she pushed it aside. And today, Emily is back to living independently. She works, has her own apartment, and continues to improve day by day. When asked why she has joy despite being through so much, her answer is simple and inspiring: “I got the old me back.”

Our team understands that, after an accident or diagnosis, you just want to get home. Since that’s not always possible, we’ve created a home-like atmosphere in our residential programs. That means offering spacious rooms, television, Internet, an in-house chef, lounge areas, and other amenities to make you feel as comfortable as possible.

And if you are a family member, we’re happy to answer questions and address details to make a difficult circumstance a little easier.

What does day one at Hope Network Neuro Rehabilitation look like?

From the moment you step foot in our doors, we want you to feel comfortable and have a sense of belonging. We work to limit the surprises and prove that we’re the right team for you and your comeback. For many people, this is what day one looks like:

• Upon arrival, someone you’ve already talked to will greet you, help you with your belongings, and show you to your room.
• Once settled in, you’ll be introduced to your case manager, who will review your schedule and go over some general program information.
• You’ll then meet and greet with residential staff, clinical staff, and other residents.
• After that, we’ll get right to work. You and your therapists will complete some evaluations before beginning to formulate a treatment plan.

On your first day—and any day beyond it—we welcome and encourage any questions you may have. It could be related to the treatment, the community, the people—anything you’re wondering. From the day you get here until the day you leave, we’re here to help—however possible.
OUR ADMISSIONS TEAM—HERE TO MAKE LIFE A LOT EASIER.
